

SEEING IN NEW WAYS:
POSSIBILITIES AND PERCEPTIONS
#RCCACP2019

 CHICAGO 2019

April 10-13, 2019 • Millennium Knickerbocker Hotel • religioncommunicators.org

Join the Religion Communicators Council in Chicago this spring as we "See in New Ways" by exploring the myriad of possibilities and perceptions available to us through media and communications in a joint convention with the Associated Church Press (ACP). Plenary and workshop topics will include engaging in social media, writing for the web, performance evaluation, strategy planning and much, much more.

Come be a part of this timely and vital conversation!

The convention will feature engaging professional development workshop tracks.

SOME FEATURED WORKSHOPS INCLUDE:

"So, How Did We Do?": The Oft-Forgotten Question

Taylor Morrison (@taylorellysemo) is the CEO of Jubilant, a brand experience firm. She writes, speaks, and consults on seemingly unrelated topics like branding, self-care, and business operations. She explores purpose and process to help people and organizations build meaningful rituals for work and for life.

Drinking From a Hydrant of Data and Using it Wisely

Heidi Thompson is an organizer, marketer and publishing executive with 25 years of experience helping faith-based nonprofits leverage the science of marketing to build audiences, cultivate donors, and win campaigns.

Photography and Graphic Design

Ted Glasoe (@deltasego) is a photographic artist specializing in images of Lake Michigan. He has been a professional graphic designer for over 20 years and a professional photographer for over 10 years.

Working With Freelancers

Charles Whitaker is the Helen Gurley Brown Research Chair in Magazine Journalism and Associate Dean at Northwestern's Medill School of Journalism. He was named a Charles Deering McCormick Distinguished Clinical Professor in 2004. His work has appeared in a variety of national and regional publications, has been honored by a number of journalism societies.
