

COMMUNICATING FAITH IN THE PUBLIC SQUARE

March 17-21, 2020 Washington, DC area

A once-a-decade gathering of professional religion communicators from a wide range of faith traditions

Since 1970, the Religion Communication Congress has been a once-a-decade gathering of professional religion communicators from a wide range of faith traditions to provide hands-on opportunities to learn new technologies, academic and applied research, and participate in dozens of practical workshops with tools you can implement immediately. Visit RCCongress2020.org to learn more.

5 REASONS TO ATTEND

1

NETWORK with colleagues from across the country and around the globe to expand your vision and improve your skills. Enjoy time with old friends, make new friends and enrich your ability to share faith in the public square.

2

LEARN to work smarter, faster, with heart during daily breakout sessions. With workshops on topics ranging from the one-page communications/marketing plan to creating multi-platform stories to handling media interviews like a pro, you'll leave RCCongress 2020 with a stronger professional toolkit.

3

BE INSPIRED by media personalities and leaders from various faith traditions, including CNN's Wajahat Ali, Dr. Glory Dharmaraj of the Global Media Monitoring Project (GMMP), Rev. Dr. Jacqui Lewis of "Just Faith" and NYC's Middle Collegiate Church, Dr. Simran Jeet Singh of NYU's Center for Religion and Media and the Sikh Coalition, Julie Zauzmer of the Washington Post, and others.

4

RESOURCES to help you do your work will be available from dozens of exhibitors. There are also over 100 cooperating organizations with experience to share. Learn about new technologies, network with professionals and learn from one another.

5

WASHINGTON, DC is the perfect setting to explore communicating faith in the public square. The Hyatt Regency Crystal City Hotel at Reagan Airport connects you to the city's iconic sites and exciting opportunities. Visit world-class museums, take in the opening of the famous Cherry Blossom Festival, explore the museum, street scenes and night life.
